

DEBUTING Pilot Action to Move Forward: RoboTech Girls in Transylvania, Romania

RoboTech Girls, a good practice shared by Grand Est Development, France, will be implemented in Transylvania, Romania, by DEBUTING partner North-West Regional Development Agency as a pilot project. The pilot aims to inspire girls to pursue a career in STEM and digital industries.

Running in France since 2019, this initiative tackles the critical issue of female underrepresentation in digital and technical fields. It equips middle and high school girls with essential skills, provides mentorship and training, and actively challenges gender stereotypes to inspire future careers in tech industry.
